

Snow Sculpture

<https://collections.galtmuseum.com/en/permalink/descriptions89942>

Date Range: 8 January 1971

Description Level: Item

Material Type: Photograph

Accession No.: 1991107615659

Physical Description: Black and white negative

Scope and Content: This snow sculpture breaks with the snowman tradition—an influence of the women's liberation movement—to become fun for Diane and Ted Buzunis, left and Linda and Randy Coyle on the shore of Henderson Lake. They created this swim-suited female on a sunny afternoon.